

Prior to Craig becoming a licensed MCA captain he had a career in business. His initial training at university was with a Bachelor of Business with a major in accountancy. He continues to be a licensed CPA as well as holding a degree in Computer Science.

He uses this logical training to thoroughly review the cost base of your vessel, to ensure that it is running as cost effectively as possible. This could be thought of as an audit of the running costs of the vessel and it can be as detailed as a receipt by receipt review or as top level as looking at the average cost per month to identify areas where you could recommend savings.

He is also happy to work with your crew and captain to seek more cost effective channels for the supply of the goods and services that are required to run your vessel.